

Whether its 500 years of colonial settler – Indigenous relations in Canada or 100 years of Israeli-Palestinian conflict, it's all about grabbing the land.

The participatory play “Just Work in Process” traces the history of Israeli-Palestinian relations using the format of the Kairos Blanket Exercise. The performance can be undertaken by a cast of three - a Canadian and Palestinian narrator and a facilitator along with minimal stage props. The original version was performed at the UNJPPI Conference in Halifax Sept 2015. The current version includes the role played by Canadians in this history. The script may be downloaded from here. You have permission to produce the play and/or modify the script with acknowledgment. To comment or for more information please contact Doug Rigby (drigby@chebucto.ca)